

L'Institut Jane Goodall Institute

Hello,

Thank you for your interest in becoming a volunteer with us. The generous donation of time and talent by people like you allows us to fulfill our mandate of making the world a better place for people, animals, and the environment.

We value our volunteers. We believe that all volunteers have the right to work in an atmosphere that fosters growth and learning, to be treated with respect and dignity, and to work in a pleasant environment that supports success.

Enclosed you will find:

- The Volunteer application form; and
- Information on our organization.

Please be aware that we frequently have more applications than positions, and, as a result, there is a selection process for most positions.

We invite you to read the enclosed documents, and should you be interested in beginning the process towards becoming a volunteer with us, to complete the application form and return it to us along with the documentation requested on the application form.

We look forward to hearing from you. Please feel free to e-mail at info@janegoodall.ca, or call at any time during office hours (Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm), should you have any questions.

Yours truly,

The Staff of the Jane Goodall Institute of Canada

THE JANE GOODALL INSTITUTE

A global community of concerned individuals striving for a better world

MISSION & OBJECTIVES:

The Jane Goodall Institute of Canada supports wildlife research, education and conservation. We promote informed and compassionate action to improve the environment shared by all Earth's living creatures.

Our objectives, in no order of importance are:

- Increase Canadian awareness of and compassion for the plight of endangered animals, with a focus on chimpanzees;
- Foster public understanding of the interconnected nature of the human, animal and ecological community;
- Increase support for habitat and species conservation, particularly for wild chimpanzees;
- Promote activities that ensure the well-being of wild and captive chimpanzees;
- Provide training in and support for environmental and humanitarian education and action;
- Inspire and engage Canadians to take action in local and global environmental and humanitarian initiatives.

PROGRAMS & PROJECTS:

- Roots & Shoots, an environmental and humanitarian education program for young people.
- TACARE, a reforestation project in western Tanzania, which is focused on community-centered conservation.
- Sanctuaries, where chimpanzees orphaned by poachers are provided with long-term care and rehabilitation.
- Chimp Guardian Program allows one to support the life-saving work at our sanctuaries and helps to curb illegal poaching throughout Africa by becoming a guardian to a chimp in need.
- Gombe Stream Research Centre, where Dr. Goodall and her staff of researchers continue to contribute significant findings on chimpanzee behaviour and social relations.
